Don Biddle Award citation for: Julie Hearnden

Nominated by: Steve Hawkins GHTANT

Julie Hearnden has made a significant contribution to the teaching of geography, in both the Northern Territory where she is based and nationally as a previous member of the AGTA Board and the editor of the Geographia Journal.

Geography at the senior secondary level is not widely taught in the NT, despite the opportunities provided to teachers and students in our wonderful landscape and the tremendous need to focus on sustainability at a time where political and economic pressures threaten our varied and ancient landscape. Julie has always actively supported Territory teachers, either as a member of the GHTANT board or in mentoring new or inexperienced teachers of geography. Recently retired as Treasurer from the GHTANT board, Julie is one of only two former GHTANT members to be awarded Life Membership of our association, a tribute to her outstanding work and support to NT geography teachers.

Julie has worked to develop and nurture relationships outside of the NT which have benefited our teachers. It was Julie who advocated for GHTANT to join AGTA in order to build and maintain constructive relationships with our interstate colleagues, relationships which continue to be fruitful. Through our national engagement, we have been able to secure the services of She Maps to deliver drones workshops to teachers and students in the Top End, and have engaged national speakers to participate in our biennial Festival of Teaching. Julie has previously helped to coordinate the Geography Road Show and has aided geographical-focused professional development in events such as the NT Festival of Teaching.

Nationally, Julie's experience extends long before my involvement in AGTA. She has been a willing and interested board member and was the editor of the Geographia journal before her retirement from the AGTA board. Julie has contributed – nationally and in the NT – to issues relating to geographical education, such as the recent Australian Curriculum review.
